Summary

I am a junior developer with a great eye for detail, currently enrolled in the Code Institute, Full Stack Software Development Diploma. I am studying full-time and well ahead of my schedule. I bring excellent background and professional exposure from construction and hospitality, keen client services ability, and a logical, responsive working style. I am positive, ambitious, relatable, resourceful, and self-motivated. I am actively pursuing an entry into the tech industry, which is something I am passionate about.

Work History

July 2019 - Present

In the summer of 2019, I sustained a sporting injury that prevented me from being able to continue my line of work in construction. Following multiple operations, the doctors confirmed that I would no longer be able to return to my previous career for the foreseeable future. Coding has always been a personal interest of mine and with the free time that was presented, I seized the opportunity to retrain and pursue a new career in Development.
